5. SEEDING

5.1 At the Championship Final:

- a) Seeding for lanes for each event of the Men's and Women's Championship Regattas shall be done by a random draw. Seeding for finals will be done using regulation 5.6 in the rules and regulations – winners in each heat advance plus the next fastest times to get to a six (6) boat final. (Updated July 2017)
- b) Lane assignments for the Men and Women shall be made according to the following formula below.
- c) In alternating years, the men's and women's events will alternate. The rule will be effective with the men having the last event in odd years and women in even years (i.e. men having the last event in the 2017 championship and women in 2018).
- d) A seven boat final can be operated.
- e) For events not requiring heats the Regatta Chairman shall for each event, make a draw to determine the format of the draw. The ranking for crews in these events will be based on results from the Brock University Invitational Regatta. Those crews that do not receive a ranking from that event will be placed into an empty lane, after lanes for seeded crews have been assigned. These formats are predetermined and shall follow format A or B. (Updated July 2017)

A and B formats are as follows:

FORMAT A:

Lane:	1	2	3	4	5	6
Rank:	6	3	2	1	4	5

FORMAT B:

Lane:	1	2	3	4	5	6
Rank:	5	4	1	2	3	6

- f) For events that have preliminary heats, the placement of crews in lanes for the final will be determined by the Regatta Chair using a coin toss (Format A-1 is Heads and Format B-1 is Tails). This will not be published until the last crews have launched for the last preliminary heats.

FORMAT A-1:

Lane:	2	3	4	5	6	7
Rank:	6 th fsts	3 rd fsts	1 st fsts	2 nd fsts	4 th fsts	5 th fsts

FORMAT B-1:

Lane:	2	3	4	5	6	7
Rank:	5 th fsts	4 th fsts	2 nd fsts	1 st fsts	3 rd fsts	6 th fsts

As per regulation 5.6 (Updated July 2017)

5.2 When necessary, preliminary heats will be raced to determine A and B finalists.

5.3 'In the event an entry in a Heat scratches at the last minute creating a row over (allowing all boats to qualify for the final), the number of boats advancing to the Final shall be reduced by one crew to ensure that all crews in heats have to race to qualify for the Final. For example, in a four boat heat with three to qualify, the number to qualify for the Final shall be reduced to two boats if only three boats race the heat. If the scratch is made before the first head of the event is rowed, all crews can advance to the final without rowing using regulation 5.1 d). If regulation 5.1 d) is used, seeding for that final is conducted in accordance with rule 5.1 e).

- 5.4 If the Championship venue has seven lanes then a seven boat final can be operated. Otherwise, one heat of 3 and one heat of 4 will be drawn and the slowest time (boat) from all 7 entries will be eliminated and 6 boats progress to the final.
- 5.5 In the event that there are eight (8) or more entries, heats will be run. (Added June 2016)
- 5.6 Winners of each heat advance plus the next fastest times to get to a six (6) boat final.
